

Holding Space For You

Litmus A Freeman

So glad you came into my life you feel so close to me
We share a love of freedom, van life philosophy

So now it's time for you to go fly high and far and free
Free your little bird inside, but please remember me

Chorus

'Cause I'm holding space for you
A sacred space inside myself that's deep and pure and true
A space for you, always here with me
A place among the lemon trees where we can both be free

The nearness of you, that song you sang is new to me
I'm going to hold that nearness within my scenery

With everything in it's right place, your beauty O.C.D.
Painted in our colour, in all her greenery

Repeat Chorus

As "Me.l.v.in." is my sage, there's a place for you, here on my page
Where we can talk and cry and heal and be, 'cause I'm holding space for you inside of me
Inside, from above, I think, they call it love
Where we can laugh and cry and heal and be, I'm holding space for you inside of me

I'm holding space for you
A sacred space inside myself that's deep and pure and true
